I am currently conducting research on the order execution methods of various FX brokers. I would greatly appreciate if you could provide information on your company's order execution method, specifically addressing the following points: 1. Which order execution method does your company employ: Market Execution or Instant Execution (Streaming)? 2. In the MT4/MT5 platform, is the slippage parameter specified in the OrderSend function actually applied? 3. How are orders processed when there is a sudden price fluctuation? Specifically, could you explain how orders are handled when there is a significant deviation from the specified price? 4. Is there any difference in the order execution method between demo accounts and live accounts? This information is crucial for developing appropriate trading strategies and from a risk management perspective. I understand you are busy, but I would be very grateful if you could provide answers to these questions. Thank you very much for your kind attention and assistance. Sincerely, HANDY SYSTEMS support
